DEFENSE TO TRY TO PROVE ALIBI

Outlined by Donald L. Smith Today in Case of State Against John D. Farlow For Arson

WHAT EVIDENCE WILL BE

Will Show, According to Attorney, That Defendant Was at Aldridge Farm When Barn Caught Fire

The defense at eleven o'clock took their swing at the case in which John D. Farlow of Anderson township is being tried in the circuit court on a charge of arson, and in the opening statement to the jury this morning, it was explained that the defense would establish an alibi to show that Farlow was not on the farm tenanted by Clifford Power, when the fire started in the barn on the night of July 16, last.

The state finished with their evidence about 10:30 this morning, and after a recess announced that they rested. Donald L. Smith, one of the attorneys for the defense, outlined their part of the case to the jury.

It was intimated that the evidence would be concluded late today, by the defense.

In Mr. Smith's preliminary remarks, he stated that the defendant owned a 250 acre farm, scattered in smaller divisions in one vicinity of Anderson township, and he reviewed his family relations, touching upon the evidence introduced by the state to show that an ill feeling had existed in the settlement of the estate of his father.

The defense denied that any ill feeling existed and that during the time that the suit had been set for trial his twin sister, one of the parties to the complaint who lives in the state of Washington, had visited at their home.

The attorney stated also that there was an absence of any feeling between the defendant and his aged uncle, Joseph Farlow, owner of the barn which was alleged to have been set on fire, and that no motive had been advanced that would cause him to destroy the barn. He also said that the defendant did not have any ill feeling for Mr. Farlow's daughter, Mrs. Clifford Power, who with her husband, occupied the premises on which the barn was located.

Mr. Smith stated that the defendant had long been an addict to the use of liquor, and that the evidence on their part would show that he had been drinking on the night in question, but he told the jury that the defendant was not to be tried on the liquor charge, but only on the charge of setting fire to the barn.

The attorney outlined his case at length, step by step, which briefly summed up as follows:

That besides being a farmer, the defendant owned a threshing outfit, and a few days prior to the alleged fire, he had been threshing on the Aldridge farm in that vicinity, but the separator had broken before the work was completed. On the Sunday, July 16, Mr. Farlow's family, including the children, had taken part in a picnic or Sunday school social near Moscow, and late in the day Mr. Farlow accompanied them home in the machine.

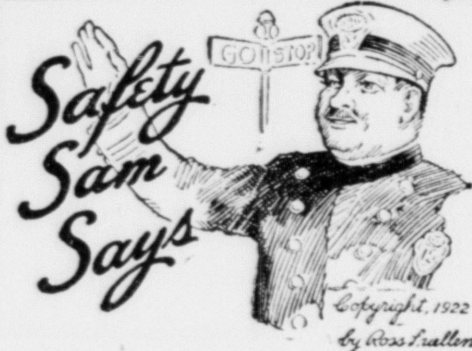

After he had taken them home, he went to the tenant home on his farm, occupied by a man by the name of Bennett, to see a sick horse, and while here told him they had better go to the Aldridge farm and fix the separator so that they could resume work Monday morning.

On the way he picked up another tenant by the name of Hobart, and notified Ben Osterling, a farmer, who assisted Mr. Farlow in threshing. They were unable to repair the machine on account of darkness and left about 8:30 that night, and when Mr. Farlow's machine stalled in the lane at the Aldridge home, the men had to walk.

Hobart, Bennett and the defendant walked to Bennett's home, and remained and talked. About 9:30 Hobart inquired about the time, and left for his room at the home of Everett Piper. Farlow and Bennett continued to talk, and about 10:15 Farlow departed and went back to where his machine was left in an effort to get it started, and he remained there for several minutes. He smelled

TROOPERS FAVOR ARREST AT ONCE

State Investigators in Hall-Mills Murder Case Would Act on Basis of Eye Witness Story

BALKED BY AUTHORITIES

Mrs. Jane Gibson Tells Story Which Lacks Corroboration in Essential Details

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 25—State troopers here on orders of Governor Edwards to probe the Hall-Mills murder case, favor making an arrest today on the basis of the alleged eye witness story of Mrs. Jane Gibson, but were overruled and hastened to Trenton to confer with the chief of state police.

Coincident with the departure of the troops, J. P. Mason, special investigator, left for Newark to confer with Wilbur Mott, who was appointed to head the probe by Attorney General McCran.

It was learned on good authority today that Mrs. Gibson, who is declared to have told authorities that she was a witness of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Elinor Mills, also stated that she identified the minister and the woman when she stumbled onto the murdered bodies on the night of September 14.

Mrs. Gibson's statement, which was secured by Detective Totten of Somerset county, lacks corroboration in essential details. Another woman, Mrs. Matthew Sulitz, wife of the caretaker of Phillip's farm, near which the bodies were found, is now reported to have told the authorities she heard four shots at the time mentioned in Mrs. Gibson's story.

The latter's account of her night ride on a mule to the alleged scene of the crime, and of seeing two men and two women, hearing four shots and a woman cry:

"O, ———" (The Christian name of a man mentioned in connection with the case) was not convincing enough to divert the new chief prosecutor from his detailed study of earlier evidence. Nor was it sufficient evidence for prosecutor Beekman to ask an indictment of the grand jury.

Besides Mrs. Sulitz, a man who lives in the vicinity of the Phillips farm, has told officials he heard four shots coming from the direction of the crab apple tree at about 9:20 or 9:30 on the evening of the crime.

Detective Totten, who discovered Mrs. Gibson, stated he has placed the time of the double murder "within fifteen minutes" as a result of testimony of these three persons.

ENFORCEMENT IS DELAYED

Regulations Putting in Effect Daugherty Ruling Held up by Mellon

Washington, Oct. 25—Issuance of enforcement regulations putting in effect the Daugherty ruling prohibiting liquor on all American vessels and all foreign vessels in American waters, was further delayed today by order of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, pending the working out of further problems.

Until the new regulations are issued, prohibition enforcement will continue as heretofore.

U. S. GOVERNMENT TURNS TO EUROPE

Administration Takes up Diplomatic Relations to Take up What Can be Done on Finances

TO SPONSOR CONFERENCE

May be Held in Washington to Take up Problem of Rehabilitation and Land Armaments

By A. L. BRADFORD
(Copyright 1922 by U. P.)

Washington, Oct. 25—The American government has entered into diplomatic deliberations to determine what can be done by the United States to prevent a financial crash in Europe.

Almost constantly, exchanges are passing back and forth between the state department in Washington and American ambassadors abroad, while conversations are ensuing here between Secretary of State Hughes and foreign ambassadors on the serious situation in Europe in which the old world apparently is looking to this country as a last hope.

It is known that the question of the possibility and advisability of a world conference on economic rehabilitation, and a reduction of land armaments to be sponsored by the United States and to be held in Washington for settling this vast problem, is figuring in these discussions. But, at present, it is impossible to state with any certainty what the final decision of this government will be.

The United States, in calling a conference here of five central American countries to consider reduction of their land forces, is opening the way for future concerted action by all nations for extensive land disarmament.

Following adoption of a land armament limitation agreement by the five central American republics, the second step would be its extension to all of South America. This step taken, it would then be up to the United States to join with the South American and Central American governments in a general disarmament treaty, which would be placed before the nations of Europe as an example of what might be accomplished toward world wide disarmament.

In view of the natural hesitancy of this government to cut down its land forces until some assurance is given of European reduction, the probable course, it is considered here, would be a tentative agreement with South America based on European acceptance of a general conference.

This government may decide to keep "hands off" of the European situation for some time yet. There are indications, however, that should the American government make some move such as the calling of a world economic conference it would insist on means for limiting the huge military establishments in Europe as preliminary to any agreement for a relief of the economic situation.

RUSHVILLE BOYS IN BAND

W. E. Beer Makes Third One Admitted to Purdue Organization

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 25—W. E. Beer of Rushville, has been admitted to membership in the Purdue University Military Band. Beer, a Freshman in Purdue, made application for the band and was one of those successfully passing the try-outs given the new men.

Two other Rush County boys are members of this famous unit, J. A. Caldwell and G. J. Liddell, both of Rushville, are playing with the organization again. Caldwell is a Junior and is in the band for his third year while Liddell is just entering upon his second season. Since this band is rated as one of the best in the country, it is considered an honor to be a member of it. Many trips are made during the school year, filling important engagements throughout the middlewest. A trip to Chicago with the football team is an annual affair, being Oct. 21, this year.

ANNUAL BANQUET, INITIATION HELD

Rush County Horse Thief Detective Association Entertained by Fitch Cooper of Elwood

NINE MEMBERS INITIATED

Will M. McMillin Reports on Activities of Association in State—Talk by Sherman Davis

Following the initiation of nine candidates at the court house Tuesday evening, the Rush County Horse Thief association held its annual feast at the Knights of Pythias hall, the members of the organization entertaining their wives.

As is their custom, the association had kid at the head of the banquet menu, because it is felt that the annual "feed" would not be successful without this article of food.

More than two hundred banqueters were called to order by Will M. McMillin, head of the association, about 7:30 o'clock and after a short prayer by William A. Young, they all "fell to." The meal was served by the Pythian Sisters and this is the same as saying that it was one that could not be equalled any place.

The entertainment for the evening was provided by Fitch Cooper of Elwood, a comedian and musician, who as a "rube" character depicted the rural resident as he was a score of years ago. He also gave several readings, one of them a poem which Mr. Cooper said was written especially for him by James Whitcomb Riley many years ago and has never been published. He also played tunes on the hand saw and the fiddle, imitating an old organ to perfection on the latter.

The entertainer's make-up was good and his dialect was a studied impersonation of the typical "stage rube". His funny stories and his description of the quaint experiences of himself (the rube) and his fancied wife "Samantha" when they visited the "city" kept the crowd in an uproar of laughter most of the time.

While Mr. Cooper was preparing for his entertainment, Mr. McMillin made a report regarding the activities of the Horse Thief Detective association in the state during the past year. He said 28 automobiles had been stolen from members and that 26 had been recovered; 98 thieves were convicted due to the activity of the association and its members, and four horses were stolen and all recovered. The present state membership is 11,578.

Sherman Davis, an Indianapolis attorney from the state fire marshal's office, who is here assisting the state in the Farlow arson case, was a guest at the banquet and was invited to make a short talk. He congratulated Rush county on having banded together such a large number of influential and wide awake farmers for the purpose of seeing that the law is not violated.

Mr. Davis declared the moral influence of such an organization was bound to be beneficial and that law violators would be less likely to attempt acts contrary to the law when this body of men stood ready to protect the property rights of the citizens of the community.

Mr. Davis talked more particularly of his specialty, fire prevention. He referred to the large number of arson cases that had been prosecuted successfully in Indiana during the past year, in comparison with other states, and urged that an effort be made to prevent fires.

The local company of the association now has 143 members in good standing, counting the nine who were initiated yesterday evening. The new members are:

Fitch Cooper of Elwood, Thomas Ertel, John M. Wissing, Howard M. Pike, Harry McManus, Luther Rieker, Chester M. Stevens, Harry McMillin and Chase P. Maury.

Five more petitions were received but the members did not appear for initiation last night.

The New Salem and Milroy companies of the association are separate organizations, but all belong to the national association and cooperate in the detection of thieves.

REV. D. LEE AULTMAN DIES

Brother of George Aultman of This City Expires at Cincinnati

The Rev. D. Lee Aultman, well known in this city, and a brother of George Aultman, expired Tuesday in a hospital in Cincinnati, following a recent operation. The deceased resided in Avondale, and was district superintendent of Methodist Episcopal churches in that vicinity. He was known here, as he had frequently visited in this city, and had preached here several times. The deceased was 73 years old.

The funeral services will probably be held Thursday afternoon, with interment in Cincinnati, although the local relatives were not apprised of the exact arrangements.

CONCERT BY QUARTET IS CROWNING EVENT

Knoxville College Colored Men Sing at New World Movement Institute at U. P. Church

MANY DELEGATES PRESENT

The New World Movement institute, for United Presbyterian churches of the Indiana Presbytery, was well attended at the Rushville church Tuesday, and the crowning event of the meeting was the concert by the Knoxville colored quartet last night.

It was announced that if Rushville radio fans wished to hear further numbers by the quartet, they can listen in next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock when the colored men will sing at a Detroit broadcasting station.

The moving picture, "Shepherd Who Watched by Night", which was given last night, proved very interesting as a climax to the series of addresses during the afternoon session on the New World Movement.

Dr. A. W. Jamieson of Xenia, Ohio, superintendent of missions of the second synod and formerly pastor of the Rushville church, presided at all of the sessions.

The delegates were entertained at supper which was served in the church basement, and following the meal, several short talks were made.

JESSIE A. SPENCER GRANTED A DIVORCE

Custody of Two Children Given to Defendant's Mother—Evidence Heard Last Saturday

CHARLEY SWEET OUT ON BOND

The divorce suit of Jessie Spencer against Thurman Spencer, which was heard in the circuit court last Saturday, was decided in favor of the plaintiff by Judge Sparks, and the custody of two children was given to Mrs. Eddie Spencer, mother of the defendant, who resides in Newcastle. The defendant also was ordered to pay $7 a week to his mother for their support. The plaintiff was given permission to see the children at intervals.

Judge Craig of Greensburg, acting as special judge in a case on trial this week in court, also acted on a motion in the case of Beulah D. Addison et al, against Anna Collins, a complaint to quiet title. The defendant asked for a change of judge, and Judge Craig granted the petition. The plaintiff prior to that had been granted a change from Judge Sparks.

Most of the routine of business in the circuit court is being transacted before Judge Sparks in a room adjoining the court room. Charley Sweet, defendant on a liquor charge, has been released on bond, after pleading not guilty.

TO MODERATE CALL

The Rev. E. G. McKibben, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of this city, will go to Milroy to moderate a call to the United Presbyterian church. The Milroy congregation has been without a pastor for more than a year.

ROUSING MEETING WINDS UP THE TOUR

Congressman Elliott and George M. Barnard Speak to Crowd That Taxes Assembly Room

DISCUSSES NEW TARIFF ACT

District Representative Cites Facts to Disprove "Do Nothing" Charge Against Congress

Two rousing addresses were given here Tuesday night before a crowd which completely taxed the assembly room of the court house, by Richard N. Elliott, candidate for congress from this district, and George Barnard, an attorney of Indianapolis, who resides in Newcastle. The speaking here was the climax to a county tour made by the republicans yesterday.

The circle of the entire county was made by an automobile caravan with two bands, and which arrived in Rushville shortly after dark, coming from Carthage.

The two speakers last night held the closest attention of their audience, and all available room was taken. Congressman Elliott spoke first, and discussed the charges made by the democratic candidates, that the present congress was the "do nothing congress".

The congressman stated that back in 1916 when Woodrow Wilson was elected president, the national debt was one billion dollars, and that the interest on the debt amounted to 25 million. He said that among the first things for which all democratic administrations were noted, they removed the protection for the farmers, and American industries by passing the Underwood tariff.

Soon after the passage of this tariff, which he said was putting American industry on a basis with foreign market conditions, the democrats played in luck, he stated. He pointed out that the war broke out and there was no foreign market and naturally American industry and business picked up, which was further promoted by the war contracts let by this government, and demands from other governments for American made goods.

In 1921, he said, when the republicans assumed control, the government debt had been increased from the billion dollars to 25 billion, and the interest alone was as much as the debt had been in 1916.

The congressman pointed out that the so called "do nothing congress" had worked out several plans to save the country from ruin, when they assumed charge 18 months ago, and the federal loan act was amended so that through this channels one third of a million dollars had been sent to relieve farmers, who otherwise would have suffered disaster.

Congressman Elliott dismissed the Fordney-McCumber tariff which he said is being made an issue by the democrats in this campaign. He cited one instance where the democrats are claiming a big thing, in the matter on the wool tariff. The tariff on wool he said is 31 cents a pound, and because of this, the democrats are pointing out that clothing will soar. The emergency tariff rate was 45 cents, he said, and clothing was not raised in price on account of it.

The speaker stated that the opponents are acclaiming that suits and overcoats will advance $4 to $7.50 a garment on account of the tax, but he pointed out the fact that the best suit or overcoat made does not contain over 2½ pounds of virgin wool, which could not possibly, with the 31 cent tariff, make the suit cost more than 83 or 84 cents more, and that if American raised sheep, were used, there would not be any cause for an increase in the price.

The speaker pointed out that the so-called, "do nothing congress" had paid on the national debt, a billion and a quarter within the 18 months that they have been in office; that besides these, appropriations amounting to $689,000,000 for crippled, wounded and battle scarred veterans of the World War, has been made; that $288,000,000 had been

BLANKS TO GET MEMBERS

Little Theatre Society Prepares for Adding to Membership

Blanks are being distributed in an effort to obtain members of the Little Theatre society, which has been organized here. The organization was perfected at a meeting of more than a score interested in the project, which was held about two weeks ago, and a board of directors is being formed to act as the executive head of the society.

The blanks are for the purpose of ascertaining in what capacity each member can function. They demonstrate that there are many tasks to be performed in connection with the presentation of a play besides taking a part in the cast. It is hoped to have the board and committee ready for announcement within a few days.

AMUSEMENTS

An Epic of North Woods
"Conflict", Priscilla Dean's first Universal-Jewel picture since the memorable "Reputation", will be seen at the Princess Theatre today and Thursday. It rings true to its name from beginning to end, for it is brimful of excitement, suspense and the uncertainty which go to make up a superior picture.

The story was written by Clarence Budington Kelland and appeared serially in the Red Book Magazine. Under the direction of Stuart Patton it has been handled in a capable and wholly efficient manner.

The story deals with a young girl, Dorcas Renalie, who is forced from a life of ease and luxury to one of happiness and uncertainty. Under the strict surveillance of Miss Labo, her uncle's housekeeper, she is thrust into an atmosphere of hypocritical piety. Unhappy and rebellious, she gradually senses the impending evil which is slowly creeping upon her.

A beautiful demonstration of a woman's love for her sweetheart is found in this picture, which will last long in the memory of every audience.

There is a great deal of food for thought in the character of John Renalie, who, under the pretense of religion, develops into a religious fanatic whose idea of piety reeks of sham and hypocrisy. He fools himself worst of all into the belief that he is religious, for he lacks all understanding of human nature and has smothered the natural love for his fellowmen by his false beliefs and standards.

Charles Jones Starred

The new Fox production "West of Chicago," starring Charles Jones, has, according to advanced reports, several outstanding features which are sure to make this photoplay a big success.

One of these is Charles Jones' leap from a horse to the platform of an observation car while the train is in motion, a feat requiring a great deal of daring and agility, and which is certain to cause a thrill to the most blasé audience.

In another there is a no less exciting scene, but with a comic turn to do it. Jones, troubled by some men who are up to sundry crooked acts, determines to put the fear of God into their souls. To accomplish this he dressed the part of a ghost, and waylaying the lawbreakers on a lonely road at night, causes them to do a marathon that would put the world's best runners to shame.

The Mexican border, with all its romantic surroundings, furnishes the background for the story.

"West of Chicago" is at the Mystic Theatre today and judging from the advance notices, should prove of exceptional entertainment value.

IF SKIN BREAKS
OUT AND ITCHES
APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Men-tho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Men-tho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Sells Rainwater as Booze

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 25—Twelve local business men "donated" several hundred dollars to the cause of rain-water salesman. Each victim was approached by the man who posed as a bootlegger and each gave him an order for five gallons at the rate of $35 a gallon, after tasting the sample which he had had in his pocket. When the kegs arrived, however, they were found to contain only rainwater. The bootlegger had disappeared.

TO CUT U. S. BILLS FURTHER IN 1923

Federal Budget Bureau Hopes to Reduce Government Expenditures For 3 Billion Mark

FIGURES ON CALENDAR YEAR

If Estimates Are Reached, Reduction of $750,000,000 Over This Year Will be Accomplished.

By HERBERT W. WALKER

Washington, Oct. 24—An effort now is being made by the federal budget bureau to cut governmental expenditures for the next fiscal year down to the three billion dollar mark.

If the federal expenses can be cut to this figure, it will represent a reduction of about $750,000,000 below the expenditures for the current fiscal year. This saving will, with receipts of about $200,000,000 expected from interest on the foreign, make possible a further large reduction in taxes during the next year.

The budget for the next fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1923 will be submitted to congress when it meets in regular session early in December.

General H. M. Lord, successor to "Hell and Marie" Dawes, the first federal budget director, is forcing heads of many governmental departments to cut their financial requests.

Some officials are predicting that taxes within the next year can be slashed as much as they were by the present congress, which was approximately $800,000,000 a year.

These predictions exclude the possibility of passing a soldiers bonus bill, which would cause expenditures of hundreds of millions from the treasury.

Even if the expenditures are cut next year to $3,000,000,000, the cost of running the government still will be double the amount expended before the war, officials declared, pointing to the fact that the interest on the war debt and the sinking fund for its retirement account for more than $1,000,000,000 a year.

There is certain to be a strong demand in congress for more reduction in army and navy expenditures.

DEFENSE TO TRY

TO PROVE ALIBI

Smoke which was corn cobs burning, and he began a search, and he traced the odor to the barn of his uncle, and as he was within close range of the barn, he was fired at and shot.

He went home and later the sheriff and Dr. Lampton arrived, and when the physician said he was going to give him a hypodermic, he slipped out of the house and went to the hay mow where he remained all night, and in the morning walked off to a remote place on his farm.

Mr. Smith stated that the state had given the time of the alleged fire at about 10:20 or 10:30, and the defense would prove that at that time the defendant was at the Aldridge farm, two miles distant, and had to walk in order to reach the scene of the fire, arriving there about 30 minutes later, when he was shot.

The state entered the case with stronger evidence against the defendant when Sheriff Hunt and deputy sheriff Ed Spradling testified late Tuesday. The defense on cross examination of these witnesses conveyed to the jury that the defendant was intoxicated when they reached his residence early in the morning of July 17, a few hours after the alleged fire.

Sheriff Hunt stated that after he arrived at the Power home, he and his deputy were sent to the Farlow home, as he had been suspected.

The sheriff stated that when they arrived at the Farlow home about two o'clock in the morning, that Mr. and Mrs. Farlow were up and dressed and that the house was illuminated. Any conversation that the sheriff and Mrs. Farlow had was not admissible, and as the sheriff talked to her, Mr. Spradling was talking to Mr. Farlow.

Later all of them gathered inside of the house to hear two selections on a player piano, and after the conclusion of these numbers, a machine stopped in front of the house. The sheriff stated that it was Dr. Lampton of Milroy, who had come to examine gunshot wounds on Mr. Farlow, and that when the physician suggested that he would give him something to ease any pain so that he could make an examination, the defendant went out of a door, and could not be found that night.

The blood stained shirt was exhibited which the sheriff stated Mrs. Farlow had given him on the following morning after her husband had been arrested. The shoes also, which Farlow had on while in jail were exhibited, in order to attempt to show their size in relation to a description of foot prints in the vicinity of the barn.

Deputy Spradling stated that when he and the sheriff arrived at the Farlow home, that he went directly to where Farlow was standing in the yard and talked to him. He stated that Farlow showed signs of having been shot, and that this was visible when he was playing the piano.

Farlow told him, according to the witness, that he had been doctoring a sick horse that night. He accounted for blood on his shirt, by saying that his arm was run over by a tractor. He also told Sheriff Hunt, according to his testimony, that he had been out doctoring a sick horse, and that he had sustained an injury by coming in contact with a belt or shafting.

Several remarks were made by Farlow, according to the deputy sheriff, which appeared irrational, and which prompted the attorneys for the defense to inquire if the defendant was drunk or sober, and each witness stated that he was intoxicated at that hour.

The sheriff and deputy stated that they were present in jail on the morning following his arrest when Dr. E. L. Wooden, county health doctor, was called to make an examination as to the extent of the injuries.

Each stated that the physician counted between 43 and 45 shots in his flesh, mostly in a leg. One shot was removed from his face, they stated, and this shot was exhibited to the jurors in a small box, together with the blood stained shirt and shoes.

Forest Glidwell, telephone operator at Milroy, testified that on the night of the alleged affair, July 16, that at 9:05 and 9:10 o'clock Farlow called Power, over the phone, and that he called him again shortly after midnight. He did not hear any of the conversation, he said.

Albert Sweet of Milroy also testified that he was one of probably 15 men who engaged in a search for Farlow on the morning following the alleged attempt to burn the barn. He told about how Farlow was apprehended near his home, and the arrest which was made by Sheriff Hunt. The witness said that Farlow accounted for a bump on his head, as being caused from running his automobile into a stump, and his head struck the steering wheel.

Sheriff Hunt and Deputy Spradling each stated that when the county physician was engaged in making the examination, that the defendant made a remark that it was bad enough to get shot when going to help a neighbor put out a fire, but it was still worse to be accused of setting the place on fire.

Hypocrisy and Price Cutting

The hypocrisy will have to be taken out of the general demand for price cutting before anything is accomplished in this direction.

He who makes the most noise about high prices is as guilty as the one of whom he complains. This is a rule that has few exceptions.

We will have to get back to the good old fashioned rule of doing unto others as we would have them do unto us.

There is more hypocrisy attached to the propaganda regarding the new tariff law than any other form that is being circulated.

the chief offenders. How they have the temerity to expect people of average intelligence to believe that the new rate on wool will cause the price of clothing to be increased from $4.00 to $7.50 a garment, is beyond the pale of common sense.

The evidence is all in and any consumer can get it for the asking. The emergency tariff law, which was passed by the last congress soon after it convened, placed a duty of 45 cents a pound on wool.

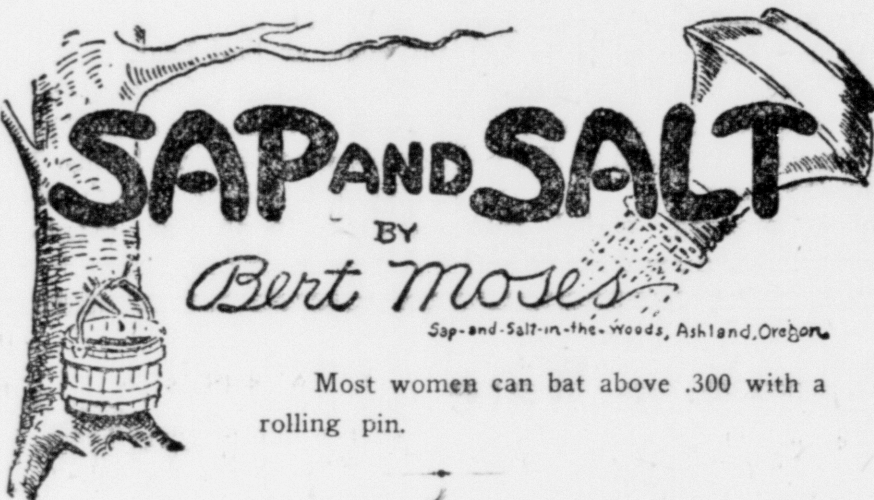

Instead of going up, since that time, the price of clothing has been coming down. The permanent tariff law, recently passed, reduced the emergency tariff rate to 31 cents. If the rate of 45 cents did not increase the price of clothing, why should a rate 14 cents less cause an advance?

This is the question the consumer should turn over in his mind when he hears this sort of argument in a campaign speech.

Competent Coal Commission

The coal commission authorized by Congress and appointed by President Harding has organized and mapped out its plan of procedure. Informal conferences will be first held with representatives of the mine owners and miners, and then the task will be begun of collecting all possible information concerning the industry. The object of the commission will be to suggest practical means "to insure a constant supply of this most necessary commodity at as reasonable prices as are consistent with fair wages and profits to those engaged in the industry."

The high character of the men selected by Mr. Harding for the commission's personnel is an assurance to the country that everything humanly possible will be done to relieve the people from further annoyances incident to coal strikes. If the expected results follow from the commission's activities, it will be an achievement to the credit of the administration that will have a direct appeal to every householder in the country.

FIGHTING PREACHER HAS HELD HIS OWN

Congregation of Little Church of Hope Was Divided on Whether To Retain Rev. W. G. Perry

MAY TAKE FIGHT TO COURT

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 25.—The fighting preacher of Holiness church held his own today against all efforts to oust him.

The congregation of the little church at Hope near here was divided on whether to retain Rev. W. G. Perry in the pulpit.

Thus far the Rev. Mr. Perry holds the whip hand because he has the keys and when any service is held in the church he conducts it.

Some members changed the name from the Holiness Christian Church to the International Holiness Church in keeping with the edict of the International Convention at Cincinnati. But that makes no difference to the fighting pastor.

Opponents of the Rev. Mr. Perry may take the fight into court in an effort to change the name of the church and thus throw him out.

The day's news showing nine murder cases in which women are implicated indicates that they have taken their new position on an equal footing with men too seriously.

The testimony that I. W. W. men worked as packers to send poisoned food to United States soldiers during the war will not help the campaign of the political prisoners for amnesty.

Most of the cabinet meetings during the war were devoted to story telling, according to letters of the late Franklin K. Lane, who was secretary of the interior, but the correspondence fails to reveal any of the stories.

By HENRY L. FARRRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 25—Hope that Billy Miske, the St. Paul Heavyweight, had "come back" to the point where he had become a logical opponent for Jack Dempsey in a little contest, was exploded by Miske's showing against Tommy Gibbons, his fellow townsman.

Miske took such a beating and was so clearly outpointed that the decision which gave him a victory on a questionable foul meant not a thing to his credit.

When he met Dempsey several years ago, Miske was not a well man. He was just recovering from a long illness and he was in no condition to take the punching that Dempsey gave him.

He took things easy for a long time before getting back into the ring and when he did resume active operations again he came so fast and looked so good that he was picked as a choice over Brennan and the other Dempsey victims for a chance at the title.

Ever since Dempsey knocked out Carpentier, it has been agreed that Harry Wills, the huge colored fighter, was the only one in the class who deserved a chance for the title. The more the other contenders mix around among themselves, the stronger that conviction becomes.

Tommy Gibbons is a first class light heavyweight, perhaps the best in the American class, but he does not size up as a fit opponent for Dempsey. He is too small and the handicap of overcoming twenty pounds of the hardest hitting fighter in the ring is too much to ask of him.

Little more than a month ago, talk of the Dempsey-Wills battle was the chief topic of conversation, but it has lapsed now to the point where it is seldom mentioned.

This cannot be taken as a loss of interest in the prospective meeting of the two leaders of the heavyweight division. It is the result of information from responsible sources that the fight cannot be held until next summer and that increased agitation would throw impediments in the way.

Joe Beckett, England's "Count of Ten," got back into the good graces of the British fight fans when he stopped Frank Moran, the ancient Mary Ann. Regardless of the fact that Moran is considered about a sixth rater in the United States, the British ringworms regard him as an American fighter, and to Beckett they give all the palms for beating an American.

Beckett's next big fight will be with Battling Siki, the heavyweight champion of Europe and the conqueror of Georges Carpentier. Even though Siki is rated in this country as an accident, Beckett will be a cinch bet to win from the Senegalese fighter. Siki can hit and Joe doesn't like to be hit.

Should Beckett get away from the Orthodox method of hitting for the jaw, followed by all European boxers, he ought to win from Siki. Carpentier tried to knock out the Battler with straight rights and left to the jaw and all he got for his trouble was two broken hands. Two good licks "down stairs" might have won the fight for him.

Reports from the other side quote Siki as having turned a new leaf upon which absinthe and wine are not entered. If he would get down to serious training and have some good instructor take hold of him, he might turn out to be a fair fighter.

Unless Dempsey should happen to lose his mind, however, talk of Siki having a chance with the champion is silly.

SPORT CHATTER

Cleveland, Ohio—Tris Speaker will lead the Cleveland Indians again in the 1923 pennant race, the club officials announced. He has signed a new one year contract and he plans to play center field again.

New York—Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, will be ready to meet Charley White or any other challengers in December or January, according to his manager, Billy Gibson.

New York—Willie Jackson, prominent lightweight, has severed his relations with Doc Bagley, his manager, and has signed with Sammy Goldman. Bagley got Jackson his first fight eight years ago for $6 and brought him up so that he earned $250,000 in the last three years.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 25—Princeton will start tomorrow for Chicago, where the Tigers play the University of Chicago on Saturday. The squad and a flock of rosters will occupy a special train of twelve sleepers and two diners that will run as the second section of the Pennsylvania's crack "Broadway limited." Thirty-five players will make up the squad.

With The Big Ten

Chicago
Maroon coaches are looking for the combination which will work against Princeton. Dissatisfied with the attack, as developed so far this season, Alonzo Stagg drove his warriors unmercifully. A complete new offensive is considered likely as Princeton scouts have been watching recent games closely.

Northwestern
Northwestern took things easy this week. Coaches were giving the men a chance to get rid of the bruises sustained in last Saturday's game before starting intensive training for Illinois next week.

Illinois
Coaches frankly satisfied with the fighting spirit of the Illini as shown in Saturday's game with Iowa put the finishing touches on the team for its battle with the strong Michigan eleven. S. Zupke told the men that Yost's team was probably one of the strongest in the conference and something more than fight would be needed to win.

Iowa
The unexpected shift in the back field as a result of the poor showing against Illinois failed to materialize. Coaches informed the men, however, unless they could develop a fighting spirit sweeping changes would be made.

Ohio State
The next team that Ohio meets—and that is Minnesota—will face a team that is fighting mad. Ohio is out to avenge that 20-0 Michigan defeat.

Wisconsin
The Badgers started a two week schedule today to prepare them for the hard battles of the season which starts with Minnesota a week from Saturday. Wisconsin came out of the Indiana battle with practically no injuries.

Minnesota
Using Ohio plays, the freshmen launched a savage aerial attack against the regulars today. Coaches spent practically the entire session perfecting the defense.

Michigan
Hurry Up Yost isn't going to be overcome when the dope upsets from Illinois come to Ann Arbor next Saturday. Yost says the Illinois team is one of the strongest in the conference. The scrimmage today was spent mainly in drilling the line on defense.

Indiana
Injuries today showed up practice. The Wisconsin scrap Saturday put at least three men in the hospital for several days and may result in Butler, stellar guard, being out for the season with a broken collar bone.

Purdue
Purdue started stiff scrimmage again today after an easy session to iron out the bruises of the battle with the Maroons.

A Roomy Sedan of Sturdy Strength

6 Cylinders—50 Horsepower—5 Passenger—$1465

The price of the Jewett Sedan is so astonishingly low that unless one has personal knowledge of the character and quality of this car of amazing value, a false classification is not an unnatural impression.

The Jewett is not a "light six" Sedan. It is a roomy, powerful, five-passenger enclosed car of distinction. It is powered with a six cylinder, 3 1/4 x 5 inch motor installed in a husky chassis in which every unit is built for excess strength.

Here is a Sedan that can be matched only by enclosed cars selling for at least $500 more than the Jewett. This is a statement certainly worth investigating. You can prove its validity by a demonstration which will be arranged to suit your convenience.

SOCIETY

Edited By Miss Edna Krammes
Phone 1111

The Rebekah Lodge will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time officers will be nominated. There will also be degree work by the Milroy Rebekah degree team. Each lady is requested to bring a fruit pie.

Mrs. Claude Cambern entertained the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Main street. Following the card game the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The program to be broadcasted from the Star-Hatfield radio studio tonight will be given by Mrs. Alva Eakins, soprano, who lives north of this city; Mrs. Hazel Fowler, piano; Miss Mary Harwick, saxophone, Miss Nichols, violin, the last three being from Indianapolis. The company is also prepared to give concerts for social affairs.

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Edith Kammerling of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kammerling, to Verlin H. Covalt, last Saturday, at the Kammerling home in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Kammerling formerly resided in Rushville and Miss Kammerling attended school here, and is remembered by many friends.

Honoring the sixty-ninth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Harry Kingery, a delicious high noon dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingery, near Orange. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Delrump and children, Mr. and Mrs. Sam May, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Emswiler and son Ray Jr., and Wm. Riggs of Rushville. A large birthday cake centered the dining table.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Wilhelm of near Center had as their Sunday guests, Mrs. Drucilla McKee, Mr.

and Mrs. Omer McDaniel and family of Center, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Powell of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bullen of Raleigh, Miss Helen Jones of Rushville and Warren and Gilbert Bullen of Raleigh. In the afternoon they attended the baptizing of the Sexton church held at Bishop's Ford.

At the regular meeting of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, which was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Cowing, in North Main street, final arrangements were made for the bazaar and penny supper to be given November 24. An interesting program was given, preceding the business program. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

A large crowd attended the masked social given Tuesday evening at the Rebekah lodge room in West Second street. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion and games and contests were the amusements for the evening. Mrs. Maude Newhouse received the prize for being the best masked person there, and Mrs. Carrie Lucas received the second prize. Refreshments of pumpkin pie and whipped cream were served.

Several from this city attended the dance given by the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity in the Eagles Hall in Connersville Tuesday evening. The Winter Garden orchestra, composed of nine musicians, of Piqua, Ohio, furnished the music for the dance program. Among those in attendance from this city were the Misses Frances Bowen, Letha Higgins and Laverne Conway and George Cohen, Eugene Kelley and Robert Conway. Miss Margaret Keys and Ross Reddick of Knightstown, were also in attendance.

The Pastor's Aid Society of the Main Street Christian church enjoyed a most delightful meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Florine Gronier in North Main street. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion in Halloween emblems. During the regular business session arrangements were made to hold an exchange, Saturday November 4. A unique contest was provided for the entertainment of the guests during the social period which was in charge of Mrs. Charley Leisure's section. Miss Gronier sang a beautiful solo, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Oscar Newhouse. Music was also furnished by the Misses Viola Jay and Elizabeth Wagoner. Dainty refreshments in keeping with the Halloween spirit, were served to the sixty members and guests present.

N. C. BUTLER RESIGNS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25—Noble C. Butler, the oldest federal district court clerk in the United States in point of service, resigned today. He had been clerk of the court here for forty three years. Judge A. B. Anderson immediately appointed William P. Kappers as his successor and the new clerk assumed his duties within five minutes after Butler stepped out.

Sends Apples Weighing One Pound Each to Republican

George B. Jones of Fort Ward, Washington, formerly a practicing physician of this city, has sent the Daily Republican a box of apples to show the kind of fruit that is grown out in the state of Washington. In the box were seven apples, which weighed about a pound each, and one potato that weighed two and one-half pounds.

The postage on the box was $1.32. Mr. Jones was in the army when the last war broke out and became a major before the armistice was signed. He is still in the service and is stationed at Fort Ward. Mr. Jones is a brother of Mrs. Pete Hollowell of this city and a son-in-law of J. B. Reeves of the Little Flatrock neighborhood.

A letter followed the box on the next mail explaining how such products are common in the vicinity where the former Rush county man lives. The letter is as follows:

Fort Ward, Wn., Oct. 19, 1922
To the Publishers of the Republican.

We have been receiving your paper at the above address for about a year now which has added to the pleasures of daily life here. It may be of interest to some of your readers to know that Fort Ward is situated on Bainbridge Island in Puget Sound just forty-five minutes by boat from Seattle. This island is about twelve miles long by three to four miles broad. It is heavily wooded and rather thickly settled. The inhabitants were mostly born in Sweden and are generally expecting rain. We have a hundred or more Japanese who are very industrious and well behaved. They claim to be good Americans and so far as I have been able to observe their claim is borne out by their conduct. There are no wild animals on the island except raccoons and some small types of squirrel. Pheasant, grouse, quail and wild duck are abundant enough to be a nuisance at times to gardeners.

There were five flocks of pheasants, the Chinese Golden variety, on the Military Reservation at the beginning of this month when the shooting season opened, but they have diminished considerably since.

As a sample of the soil products I am sending you under separate mail a potato from a garden near my quarters. This potato is one from a hill from which thirteen potatoes were dug which weighed two and one-half pounds each. This potato weighed that when dug. I hope it has not shrunk by the time you get it. This garden is run by an old bachelor who is in charge of the pumping station at the Fort and tends two acres of ground during his spare time. If he had more time to devote to his garden, he might raise better potatoes. He gets two cents a pound for his potatoes and when he takes a Saturday afternoon off, which he occasionally does, he digs a hill of potatoes to pay expenses and goes over to Seattle and has a very enjoyable time.

He keeps a hog and potatoes weighing less than two pounds, are fed to the hog. This hog gets so few potatoes, he considers them a great delicacy.

In the same mail with this potato I am sending you some apples from some untended, unsprayed trees growing in the yard of a soldier's widow, living near the Post. Some of the apples from these trees weighed a pound, but she had disposed of the best ones before I got in the market. These I am sending you do not weigh a pound each.

Strawberries are still bearing and are peddled by the Japs. Blackberries which are very abundant will be gone by Thanksgiving. You will probably be more interested in the yield of wheat and corn. No wheat is raised on this island, but on Whydby which lies north of here and is much larger, some wheat is raised, the best yield being one hundred bushels per acre on thirty acres, so I have heard but I have none of the wheat to send you to prove it. The average for the island was sixty bushels per acre last year. Corn is not raised except for table use. I want to say a word as to climate. We have a rainy season of about eight months, beginning the latter part of September. The rest of the year is dry, something like the Volstead act. There actually is some dust on the roads in July and August. It doesn't matter so much as far as the roads are concerned, for they are nearly all paved. It is cool enough for heavy weight clothes the year round, though they are not needed much heavier in the winter than the summer. It is a fact that the son of my next door neighbor went barefoot all last winter and he was less than a year old. Owing to recent reduction of the army, this place is ordered abandoned as a Military Post, but I do not know as yet where do we go from here. Such are the ways of the army.

GEORGE B. JONES,
Major Medical Corps, U. S. Army

VISITS THE KING ORCHARD

Agriculture Class of Webb High School Inspects Fruit Trees

The agriculture class of the Webb high school, under the supervision of Earl E. Hoff, visited Chris King's orchard south of Rushville Tuesday, and observed the methods used by the Rush county orchardist in picking and preparing his crop for market. The methods of sorting or grading the apples and packing them was very clearly demonstrated to the class.

Mr. King informed members of the class that he had about forty varieties of apples, in addition to several quince bushes and one persimmon tree. The orchard has been sprayed seven times this season and the trees showed the effect of it as well as the results of good pruning. The class was greatly impressed with the fact that it pays to spray and prune fruit trees. Members of the class were taken to the orchard in a school hack.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S.S.S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

The shame of a blemished face!

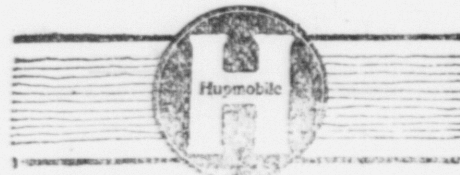

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun,—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C.'s of medical science. Red-cells mean clear-pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1828, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

200,000 SHOPMEN ARE STILL ON STRIKE

Peace Has Been Signed With Only 100 Roads Constituting Less Than Half Of Railroad Mileage

MANY LINES ARE WAVERING

By James T. Kolbert.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 25 —Approximately 200,000 of the 400,000 railroad shopmen who went on strike July 1 against the reduced wages offered by the railway labor board still are on strike, it was revealed by the International Association of Machinists' headquarters here.

Peace has been signed with only 100 roads, constituting less than half of the railroad mileage of the country.

Harry Bronson, assistant to the president of the machinists, one of the crafts in the strike, declared that the next two months will force the majority of the holdout roads into line. Many lines are wavering, due to their inability to meet the steadily increasing service demands from the agricultural and mining community, he said.

ROUSING MEETING WINDS UP THE TOUR

appropriated for Civil War pensioners; and that $389,000,000 had been appropriated for the sinking fund to pay and retire the bonds when they come due.

The speaker also cited the increase in the market value of Liberty Bonds, which had fallen as much as $15 on the $100 during the democratic administration, and he said that all bonds now are at par, if not a little higher than par, due to the efficient management of the so called "do nothing congress".

In order to protect American industry and to keep a high standard of living in this country, he pointed out the immigration bill, which was passed after the war, and which excludes foreigners, not to exceed three percent of the population of the native country of the proposed immigrant.

In conclusion, the speaker summed up the various activities, and denounced the allegations of the democrats in their charge that the 18 months of republican power, had not accomplished anything.

Mr. Barnard in his opening remarks praised the congress and the part that Mr. Elliott had taken in the nation's affairs. He recalled that back in 1892, when Grover Cleveland was president, the democrats removed the tariff, and established free trade, and he reviewed the condition of the country soon afterwards, when there was no money, nor business.

Mr. Barnard stated that the democrats were acclaiming that the war was not an issue in this campaign, but the speaker said that he would differ with them and said he would show why the late war should figure in this campaign.

He said that in every home where a soldier had taken part, and in which he had been wounded, or perhaps killed, or broken in health, these mothers and fathers would no doubt consider the war as a part of this campaign.

Mr. Barnard pointed out the extravagance of the war which should have had a controlling body, but which was managed, he said, by the misguiding hand of Woodrow Wilson, who was given full swing to the nation's treasury.

He recalled the hard times that were had in this country raising some of the Liberty loan issues, and that how badly mismanaged was the expenditure of the money, after it had been raised, and he pointed out that this money was from Rush county farmers and citizens, and that the debt that is facing the country today is being paid back on account of the unwise expenditures made by the democrats.

Mr. Barnard reviewed some of the alleged unwise purchases and called attention to the fact that when Woodrow Wilson was asked to have an auditing committee appointed to check up on expenditures as they were being made, considered it an insult to his authority, and congress allowed him to have full charge of doing the buying for the government.

The speaker stated that on many transactions the government did not have any facts to substantiate their claims now for adjustments and that money was loaned to nations without a written sign of security.

Mr. Barnard said, "The democrats will tell you that necessity of winning the war, was the reason why these vast expenditures had to be raised. Was it necessary, I ask you, that this country contract for 41 million shoes for our soldiers, when we had only 3½ million men in service? These figures are all quoted from the congressional record, where it is given on absolute authority.

"Was it necessary to win the war that they had to buy 945,000 saddles, when only 86,000 horses were in service by this government. Was the expenditure for 2,853,000 halters necessary for these 86,000 horses? Was it necessary to win the war that 2,320,000 nose bags were bought for these horses," the speaker continued.

"And for these 86,000 horses," the speaker said, "the democratic government bought 1,840,000 horse covers; but here is the best one that they did, they bought 712,510 complete set of spur straps, or 36 sets for every man who could wear them. Most of the men who wore them, fastened them to his shoes and would stick them into some highly polished desk, instead of a horse," he continued.

"That wasteful government also decided that it was necessary to win the war," he continued, "by spending $3,991,000 for cannon, and only 72 were bought for that price. The president had an idea about an emergency fleet, and contracted for 2,228 boats, at an appropriation of between 4 and 5 billion. Of this number only 453 were completed before the armistice, and this government was still buying on this contract two years after the close of the war, when the republicans assumed control."

Mr. Barnard stated that this government now has 35,000 law suits pending on war contracts incurred by that administration, and that in most cases there was not a scrap of evidence to defend the claim of the United States.

He said the administration spent $116,194,000 on nitrate plants, and not a particle of nitrate was ever produced. He said that 20 million dollars was spent on coke ovens, and not a pound of coke ever produced. He said that the government spent 116 million dollars on poisonous gas, and not a gas mask filled with the gas ever reached service.

He stated also that $1,051,000,000 was expended on aircraft by this administration, and not an American made plane, reached the scene of battle before the end of the war.

He then asked what had become of all this surplus material that the government had bought with the people's hard earned money, and he answered the question that most of it had been junked for little or practically nothing, and that for every million dollars spent, only $40,000 had been received in payment for the vast amount of plunder.

He stated again that for these reasons of poor management, the late war is an issue in this campaign. In his closing remarks he dwelt upon the state conditions and the matter of taxation, pointing out the unjust charges which the democrats are circulating about high taxes in this state.

He exhibited a copy of Monday's Daily Republican, in which several instances were published of comparisons of taxes for heavy taxpayers in several townships of Rush county. In all of these instances taxes for this year are less than in 1921, he said. He called particular attention to the taxes of Voorhees Cavitt, democratic candidate for treasurer in this county, whom he said was aspiring for office on the democratic platform of lower taxes, and that the figures for this county show that he will pay $114 less in taxes this year on his Jackson township farm than he did last year.

Come See the Value of the Essex Coach

It May Save You Hundreds of Dollars

Experienced buyers demand more in a motor car than accessories.

In many moderate priced closed cars, however, such things as dome lights, cigar lighters, clocks, etc., are featured as against the more important quality of performance, reliability and reduced maintenance expense.

Come, make a close examination of the Essex Coach. That will show its real utility and chassis quality.

Then you will appreciate what is most important when service is considered.

And you will know that the chassis that carries a closed body is always the most important part of the car.

You want more than the fittings in the body. They are nice to have, but don't sacrifice car quality to get them. Don't accept a less able chassis, just because the body has an accessory you like when its cost is taken out of the motor, or other essential mechanical parts.

The Essex Coach provides every closed car comfort. It is reliable, and convenient. It has all the details that count most for utility. Thousands are in service. And yet it is mounted on an Essex chassis that is better in every way than earlier models that established famous records.

A closed car offers advantages you will like. But don't let the extras over-weigh the construction of the body or the character of the chassis.

Come see this Essex Coach. It is more than important if you are considering your first closed car.
